Dear Parents/Carers,

We want to make sure that you are up to date with all things Tyndale, at all times! For that reason, we prioritise communicating with you in a variety of ways; via our text2parents system, our website and all social media sites.

However, we are aware that sometimes, you want to ask your child's class teacher a question, and may not have time to wait at the end of the day or book a phone call or meeting.

For this reason, we have created Virtual Messageboards for each class, where you can communicate directly with your child's class teacher and they can respond back to you.

Virtual Messageboards are located on our website, they have their own tab for easy access, and are public so please do not post here about any queries directly linked to your child. This is purely a website based noticeboard specific to all things related to your child's class. Any concerns can be reported via our Parent Bullying Reporting Form, via our Complaints Policy or by contacting the office directly.

You'll never have to worry about missing an update as every time your child's class teacher posts, you will get a text to say that the class teacher has posted with a direct link to the virtual messageboard where you can see the post and interact with the class teacher if you have any questions.

If you are curious, and want to familiarise yourself with the messageboards, the links can be found below:
